INDOOR GAMES: CARROMS, CHESS, TABLE TENNIS.

Basket Ball

Extracurricular activities, sports and games are encouraged by the college. The college gives due publicity by announcing the events in all the classes and by putting up in the notice board. Physical Education director is appointed for training and coaching the students for various sports and games. The responsibility of promoting such extracurricular activities and sports are divided amongst the faculty. They intimate the students; teams are prepared for the participation, and look after every problem faced by the student and encourage them to participate.

The college encourages the students for participation in inter collegiate and state level competitions by providing participation fees, conveyance and other expenses.

THROW BALL

The Club is interested in scheduling and hosting tournaments, leagues or structured events. It also holds regular practice sessions on every Thursday, often have a coach and have an organized game schedule.

The Sport Club allows students to participate in sports and compete with other colleges and universities. It also encourages regional and national events. Sport clubs is formed so the participants in each sport club can learn new skills, improve existing skills, potentially engage in competition, and enjoy recreational and social fellowship. Other features of the Sport Club Program that make it unique are: self-motivation, self-administration, self-support and self-regulation.

CHESS

The tournament gave the children a chance to match their skills against players from different districts of Telangana. The tournament hall was buzzing with the excitement of the students and their parents, who had gathered here on a Sunday morning for their love of chess.

Rows of tables with two chessboards each were kept ready for participants who came from different engineering colleges all over the State.

As many as 20 students came from different districts. The tournament gave the students a chance to match their skills against players from different districts.

As the students immersed themselves in the game, the arbiters got busy in addressing any foul play by the players.
